TRANSIT AID BILL PASSED

A Federal Aspirin for D. C. Bus Headache

By RON BATES

THE TRANSPORTATION picture in Daly City took on a bright new light Thursday with the passage of a bill by the U.S. Senate to aid urban communities in developing "comprehensive and coordinated mass transit systems."

The bill, according to Councilman Albert Polonsky, may be just the aspirin that will help to alleviate the city's transportation headaches.

Polonsky and fellow Councilman Francis Pacelli, both members of the council's transportation committee, are studying ramifications of the bill as it applies to Daly City.

Polonsky said the bill provides federal funds to pay for two-thirds of the expected costs to a city in setting up a transportation system to meet the needs of its residents.

The bill gives Daly City a number of avenues in which to approach the problem.

The financial assistance may apply to the extension of San Francisco's municipal bus lines to Daly City, to setting up a Daly City municipally-owned bus line or to helping a privately-owned system get started.

Polonsky, Pacelli and City Manager Edward Frank will meet tomorrow with Vernon Anderson, head of the San Francisco Municipal Railways System, to discuss the bus line extension proposal.

The Daly City committee will turn over three proposed routes to Anderson for study along with reasons why Daly City needs the lines and how they can be supported.

ACCORDING TO Polonsky, the bill passed by the Senate may provide funds to pay for two-thirds of the cost of necessary study to be made by San Francisco on the feasibility of the route extensions.

The committee is studying the bill to see what other costs of the route extensions may be covered by the bill.

Another avenue of approach to be explored, Polonsky said, is the creation of a city-owned system. Under this approach, the two-thirds provision would probably apply in the purchase of new equipment, a parking lot with garage facilities and even a station—if needed.

"It's obvious that in any business, the biggest problem would be the initial investment," he said. "From then on, it's expected that incoming revenues would defer most of the operating expenses involved."

The Senate bill also has a provision for financial assistance to establish privately-owned systems under the city's jurisdiction.

POLONSKY FEELS that if Daly City is going to have a "true transportation system," the city council must have the authority to act in response to complaints it receives instead of transferring those complaints to another agency.

In the case of Northgate Transit Lines, complaints are forwarded to the State Public Utilities Commission.

"Northgate has done a marvelous job while the city has been growing up," the councilman said, "but we would like to see the firm integrate more with the community."

He said because of Northgate's owner-driver set-up, each driver operates his bus as an individual business and acts in any way he sees fit.

There is no over-all responsible control, he said.

Northgate, for example, has no transfer privileges and a resident must pay a new fare every time he gets on another bus. Polonsky hopes that a one-fare on a city-wide basis could be achieved.

WHETHER San Francisco's lines are extended or Daly City establishes a new system, Polonsky feels that such factors as scheduling, driver courtesy and safety precautions will be more easily enforced.

The bill, which will make approximately $320-million available to cities experiencing similar problems as Daly City, has also been approved by the House.

Polonsky, who is a lawyer, feels that Daly City would qualify under the provision of the bill because of the city's proximity to

TENTATIVE BUDGET

Tax Decrease Proposed by JUHS Board

By DON MILLER

The Jefferson Union High School District's board of trustees Monday night adopted a tentative budget calling for an 11-cent reduction in the tax rate.

The present rate is $2.68 per $100 of assessed valuation.

Asst. Supt. Fred Goodell explained that because the rate is based on a number of variables, the 11-cent figure cannot be considered final until the variables become fixed.

They include such factors as the district's assessed valuation—a figure that will not become final until later this year.

Goodell said the major factor in lowering the tax rate is $141,000 less the district will have to repay in the new fiscal year to the state school building fund.

Supt. Edward Morgan commented at this point that it is this repayment each year that plays a major role in whether the district's tax rate will rise, stay about the same or go down.

He added that "actually this ditsrict hasn't changed its basic tax rate since 1962-63."

The district called a public hearing for 7:30 p.m., August 3, on the tentative budget.

The budget calls for total expenditures of $4,956,913, an increase of about $323,000 over last year's figure.

However, estimated assessed valuation for the new year is estimated at $136,500,000, compared to a final figure of $128,584,683 in 1963-64.

Outside of increases in salaries, the major rise in expenditures is reflected by a $45,000 budget item for the district's contribution to a new health plan for faculty members, approved by the board June 8.

In other action, Morgan reported that he would make a personal plea before state school officials in Sacramento tomorrow that the district be allowed to pay the cost of Wetmoor High School's hot water system repairs out of bond funds.

Cost of the repairs, undertaken earlier this year after engineers found that the system had broken down in several places, is expected to run close to $180,000.

The district, Morgan pointed out, would deplete its general fund too much if the fund were used to pay for the repairs.

Proceeds from bond sales can only be used for new building constructon. Morgan will ask the state to waive that requirement.

Meanwhile, Goodell reported that the repair work is proceeding satisfactorily and that the hot water system, being taken

Two Absent At Meeting Of Trustees

Two members were absent at the Jefferson Union High School District Board of Trustees' meeting Monday night—the first time in eight years, according to District Supt. Edward Morgan, that the board had met with only three members present—the minimum needed to transact business.

The absent members were James Cooper who was ill with bursitis and Dr. Jerry Miles,

BETTER RECEPTION

Coast Proposes TV Tower Plan

In a move to improve poor or in some cases, almost non-existent television reception in many sections of the Pedro Valley and Linda Mar areas, Pacifica city councilmen last week agreed that an ordinance should be drafted regulating community television towers.

It was decided that an ordinance should be prepared after a letter was received from the California Cable Communications Corporation asking about a franchise ordinance and offering the services of two technicians to the city.

Under the company's proposal large community towers would be constructed that would be connected to private homes by cables run along Pacific Gas and Electric Company or Telephone Company poles.

While two small community systems are now in effect, the council agreed an ordinance should be provided allowing for encroachment permits and setting up other regulations.

The council moved ahead with a major street project last week when it awarded the O. C. Jones Company of Oakland a $408,775 contract to improve Crespi Drive and develop a frontage road north to Rockaway Beach.

The company had reduced a previous bid by some $16,000, and was awarded a contract after city officials received notice that yesterday the State Highway Commission meeting in Oakland had approved Pacifica's major street program.

The council also:

AGREED to study during its budget sessions a request from an erosion study commission that $4,000 be allocated to retain a firm for studies.

ENDORSED Assembly Bill 1877 that would provide legislation to acquire riding trail easements where rails are being wiped out by subdivision developments such as the Westview trail easement in Pacifica.

D. C. Youth Drowns Off Ocean Beach

The Coast Guard Sunday called off a search for a Daly City youth who apparently drowned off San Francisco's Ocean Beach the day before.

The youth, Henry Fiatoa, 18, lived at 393 Bellevue Street in Daly City.

A 30-foot patrol boat and a helicopter searched the area Saturday and Sunday without finding any trace of the youth.

Young Fiatoa was swimming beyond the breakers with his sister, Fua, 16, and his cousin, Louise Jacopo, 14, also of the Bellevue address, when he shouted for help.

YOUNGER INTERVENES

The P. O. Tug-of-War

Congressman J. Arthur Younger last week personally urged Postmaster General John A. Gronouski to order the San Francisco regional post office to turn over handling of Republican convention mail to Postmaster Vincent Murphy of Daly City.

In a strong message to Gronouski, Younger said:

"It is inconceivable that the regional officials in San Francisco would take away from the competent Daly City Postmaster, Vincent Murphy, and his highly qualified staff, the handling of mail for the Cow Palace, which is in the 11th congressional district and in the Daly City postal area.

"How the region can step in and take away from a post office the function of serving its own territory, I do not understand. And I ask you to rescind the region's action and return the job to the Daly City Post Office."

Yesterday, however, Younger told George A. McQueen, his home secretary in San Mateo, that it may be "too late" for a switch to be made in handling the convention mail.

McQueen said the congressman had not received a reply from Gronouski.

The post office issue came to light at a meeting of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce last month when Murphy reported on the arrangements for handling convention mail.

COUNCIL SPECIFIES CONDITIONS

Refuse Rate Hike OK'd; Strike Off

The Daly City Council granted the Daly City Scavenger Company a 25-cent rate increase Monday night but tied a number of strings to its approval.

And in another development, a garbage strike was averted when the refuse company met union demands for an eight-cents an hour pay increase for the next three years.

The rate boost, expected to bring in about $40,000 a year more to the company, will take effect this month.

Among the conditions attached to the raise was a requirement that an engineering study be made of the company's dump site along the Pacific Ocean.

City Engineer William Chapman asked for the study to determine methods of stabilizing the entire area and preventing additional land slides.

He warned that subsequent pollution of the ocean would cause the State Department of Health to order abandonment of the area as a garbage dump.

He also asked that all areas subject to landslides be closed to any more dumping.

The dump, said the council, is to be cleaned up and maintained in a manner to be specified by the city's Public Works Department.

Dumping will not be allowed after noon and garbage must be covered with clean fill before the end of the work day.

The 25-cent increase had been asked by the scavenger company last October.

Before recommending the raise, Finance Director Joseph Arch examined the company's audit books and plans for purchase of new equipment.

The company is given a franchise to pick up garbage and the city determines the rate to be charged. Having the garbage picked up, however, is the city's over-all responsibility.

The council, in other business, adopted a tentative budget of $6,618,610, calling for a tax raise of six cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Mayor Micheal DeBernardi explained that the budget figure is still subject to change.

The council also took care of some last minute details be-

Police Chief Cites Trouble In Recruiting

Petrocchi Asks Higher Wage For Force

The Daly City Police Department is experiencing "serious difficulty" in recruiting qualified men, Chief Roland Petrocchi told the City Council in a budget session last week.

The low wage offered by Daly City for policemen is not enough to compete with other cities in the Bay Area or with private industry, he said.

In an effort to get the council to go higher than the two-range or five per cent increase recommended two weeks ago by the Personnel Board, Petrocchi outlined his recruitment problems and asked for a differential pay scale between policemen and firemen.

"We can't recruit," Petrocchi said, "and we're fighting to keep the men we have now."

The police chief said that he has yet to fill two vacancies authorized by the City Council last July — a year ago.

"We're probably the only department in Daly City having a recruitment problem," he said.

There have been three exams for policemen in less than seven months and still these vacancies exist, he said. He cited a number of instances where men have failed to qualify or took other jobs.

Petrocchi said that according to state and national standards, Daly City should have 1.6 officers for every 1000 residents. That means the police force should total 93.

"We have only 57," he said.

Petrocchi explained that even with a seven and a half per cent raise, the police pay scale would not be enough to compete.

Recruiting is further hampered, he pointed out, by Daly City's residence requirement,

Zita Manor Zoning Bid Held Again

Residents of Zita Manor in Daly City won another Planning Commission postponement last week in their efforts to halt construction of a gas station and apartments near their homes.

Several of the residents appeared at the commission meeting to repeat their objections to the rezoning from commercial to apartments sought by Argyle Investment Company of San Francisco.

Mrs. Maxine Driscoll of 35 Zita Manor presented a petition signed by 34 property owners on Zita Manor and six on St.

Vote Set on Unification

A proposed split of the Jefferson Union High School District into two separate unified districts will be voted on once again by the augmented committee on school reorganization when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday, July 9, at Jefferson High School.

The same proposal ended in a stalemate last month when two tie votes were taken by the augmented committee.

The tie votes gave the county committee the option of reconsidering unification of the district as a whole or splitting it again. The committee decided last week to try the split once again.

If the vote for splitting is successful this time, a public hearing date will be set with a final vote scheduled immediately after the hearing.

GETTING READY FOR THE GOP

Headline Named Cow Palace

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles on preparations for the 1964 Republican Party's nominating convention.)

By LEE QUARNSTROM

BUILT DURING the depression to house livestock exhibitions, and finished in 1941, the Cow Palace rears its massive visage from a corner of Visitacion Valley.

The $11 million structure dominates the scene, being visible from most of Brisbane and from a number of Daly City points.

One can well imagine the indignation of the newspaper reporter who complained, as the building was under construction in the 1930s, that depression-struck families were being evicted from their homes while "a palace is being built for cows."

The name Cow Palace itself was devised by a headline writer and has stuck ever since.

The Cow Palace is owned by the State of California and administered by No. 1-A District Agricultural Association. The president is L. C. Smith of San Mateo.

Used for a multitude of purposes, from the annual Grand National Livestock Exposition to ice hockey matches, from religious revivals to rock and roll performances, the Cow Palace is the site of the 1964 Republican convention.

A VISITOR to the building today would miss the barnyard sounds and smells that permeate the Cow Palace each fall; the smell of cigar smoke and the hustle and bustle of conventions would be missing too.

But the smell of freshly cut two-by-fours and the sounds of hammers and buzz-saws would strike the visitor immediately.

The huge ice hockey scoreboard hanging over the arena today looms over the scene of rapid, but careful preparations for the GOP shindig.

Over $4 million in remodeled and expanded facilities will greet the delegates to the convention, according to Edward Diran, general manager of the Cow Palace.

A total of 16,000 seats will be installed. Restaurants, food stands and lounges are being readied. Office space is being provided and the South Building of the complex will house the Young Republicans.

PERSONS INTERESTED in viewing the facilities before the convention gets under way will be taken on guided tours July 12, the day before the affair opens. Diran says tours will be given July 11 if the situation permits. The Young Republicans will provide guides for the tours.

Outside the main building, parking areas will take care of the buses and autos which will carry delegates and reporters to the building. Fees for parking on the 67-acre site will be collected by the Cow Palace.

Convention-goers who so wish will be able to shuttle buses to the Daly City site from major hotels in downtown San Francisco.

Actual construction of the convention facilities began late in April. Telephone crews were on the scene February 1 to begin planning and installation of the communications facilities.

The convention itself will wind up July 16. The GOP has contracted to clear the main arena by July 22 and to vacate the premises entirely by August 11.

It won't be too long after that date that the Cow Palace will be jumping again, only with a different sort of crowd.

The shaggy-haired Beatles are making an appearance in the huge arena August 19. It's a sellout performance, naturally.

A Federal Aspirin for Bus Headache

fore the Republican Convention begins July 13.

The council authorized a contract for additional police services from the county sheriff's office during the convention and granted the Daly City Yellow Cab Company 10 additional use permits to operate only in the area of the Cow Palace.

In other action, the council:

Accepted plans for apartment projects at Gambetta Park and Chester Manor, which are being planned by developer Gus Pedemonte.

Decided to again ask the Board of Supervisors for a municipal court on a regular basis and a superior court on a part-time basis.

The request is to be made at a "gripe day" planned by the supervisors July 9.

Authorized a "letter of intent" to be filed with the Federal Home Housing Agency for federal funds to aid Daly City with its transportation problems.

Put in a formal request to the Board of Supervisors for gas tax funds for the construction of Hickey Boulevard.

Francis Boulevard protesting the plans.

Mrs. Driscoll said that she and her neighbors have been opposed to apartments on this property but they are even more against a gas station adjacent to them.

She said the apartments, while not being compatible with the neighborhood, would be more desirable than a serving station.

She said a decorative fence on the Zita Manor frontage would be both attractive to the neighborhood and would help control traffic to the property from Zita Manor.

Theodore V. Tronoff of Tronoff Engineers and Planners presented a revised plan to the commission in answer to re- previous meeting.

City Engineer William Chapman suggested that an access to Eastmoor Avenue be moved as far westerly as possible to avoid traffic conflicts with the Eastmoor-St. Francis intersection.

After considerable discussion, the commission decided to hold the rezoning request over until its next meeting.

and he asked that it be waived in the case of policemen.

He said that he personally has been in favor of the requirement and would continue to be if the recruiting problem did not exist.

The chief requested $698 a month for patrolmen and percentage raises for sergeants, lieutenants and captains. He based his request on prevailing wages of the surrounding area.

He also presented figures comparing policemen's salaries to private industry.

He pointed out that the Fire Department has been steadily going ahead of the police department in benefits and pay.

A number of discrepancies such as uniform allowance, hourly shifts, and rate of overtime pay exist, he contended.

He said that he had never based his budget demands on the fire department before. The fire department has, however, always made its demands based on what the police department got, he added.

Petrocchi said that when an applicant takes tests for both the police and fire departments and qualifies, he generally takes the opening in the fire department, "because they have the better deal."

The police chief said all training in the fire department is done during duty hours. Policemen, on the other hand, have to get their training on their own time.

The youth, the girls and about 15 other members of their Samoan family were at the beach on a picnic.

Many members of the family recently came to the Bay Area from Hawaii.

Absence of the two prompted the board to delay a decision on at least two agenda items Monday night.

One was a decision on names for two proposed new high schools. More than 70 names have been submitted to date by district residents and students, according to Richard Coltrell, administrative assistant to Morgan.

The other was a decision on a request that the board go on record against the initiative attempt to repeal the Rumford Fair Housing Act.

A representative of the Jefferson District Federation of Teachers presented a federation resolution to the board, asking that the board oppose the initiative referendum.

INTERVIEW WITH H. Z. WEIBEL

An Educator Looks Back at 37 Years

By MARILYNN BRANNAN

SPENDING 37 years in the same line of work could be considered a long, long time—but not so for retiring school principal H. Z. Weibel of Daly City.

This distinguished educator views his active past with pride.

From humble beginnings as a teacher in a rural one-room schoolhouse up through his past four years as principal at Daniel Webster School, he says he has had many challenging and rewarding experiences.

Weibel became well-known in the Daly City area during an eight-year period in which he served as superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District.

During this time the district grew rapidly and has continued to grow rapidly.

"We were plagued with insufficient funds, double sessions, a shortage of teachers, makeshift classrooms and insufficient help," Weibeil recalls.

"However," he adds, "thanks to fine cooperation from the state, parents and many others, we raised the funds, overcame most of the difficulties and put the district in a good sound condition."

WEIBEL CONSIDERS his four years as principal of Daniel Webster school very rewarding.

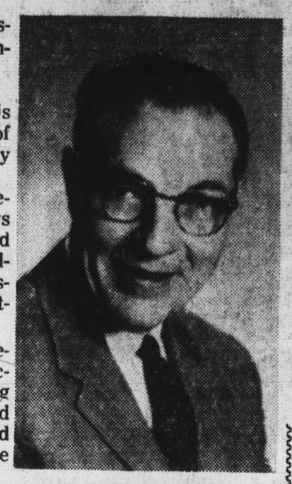
"I often think of the prelibrary and lunch room days and take pride in the hand I had in founding and developing the school's administration unit and Parent-Teacher Association."

He chuckles when he reveals that the closest he actually ever came to working in his chosen teaching field was in 1959 when he served as director of maintenance for the district.

"I trained as a shop teacher, but never made it," he admits with a smile.

He obtained a degree in education from the University of Nebraska with the intention of becoming a shop teacher. However, during his stint as student teacher, a school district superintendent became interested in his ability to handle boys and offered him a job as a principal.

"That ended my career as a shop teacher," he recalls with a laugh.



H. Z. WEIBEL
Recalls Career

ILL HEALTH has played a villainous role in Weibel's life. It prevented him from continuing his work on his doctorate degree at Northwestern University in 1946 and put him into the hospital this past March. He underwent serious surgery then and has been on sick leave since.

Family life is valued highly in the Weibel household. Mrs. Weibel, a kindergarten teacher in the El Rancho School in South San Francisco, and her husband are proud of their home at 1056 Skyline Drive and three successful children.

"We have three wonderful children," states Mr. Weibel, pointing to various family portraits.

The family consists of Dean, employed in resident sales; Dale, a senior at the University of California's School of Dentistry, and Carol, a graduate student of philosophy at Washington University.

Weibel believes that today's youngsters have far better opportunities for learning than they did years ago, thanks to the greater number of good teachers and improved teaching materials."

"But don't think everything in education today is better," he is careful to add. "There always have been good teachers who did excellent work, even under primitive conditions."

HE HAS definite ideas on how to improve today's educational system.

"Reduce the pupil-teacher ratio in the elementary grades to one teacher for every 25 or 30 students and give the teacher and her supervisors the freedom to develop their creative powers," he advises.

When questioned as to his plans for the future, Mr. Weibel assumes a thoughtful gaze.

"I don't know yet what I will be doing. This summer my wife and I plan to visit the eastern sector of the United States, particularly Washington, D.C. After that, I have no plans."

Perhaps the best tribute to this educator is a statement made this year when the Daniel Webster P-TA honored Weibel in a TV-type review of his life. A P-TA spokesman told him:

"We have taken this opportunity to in some small way show our gratitude for your vigilant and tireless devotion to the education of all children, and, in particular, our children."

A Scene to Be Repeated

THIS WILL be a familiar scene at Thornton Beach State Park this weekend as North County folk celebrate the July 4 holiday. Here, a park ranger collects a 50-cent fee for use of the park's facilities, which include picnic tables, a large parking area and what beach-goers agree is one of the finest beaches in San Mateo County. The park was formally dedicated last month.

BASEBALL'S annual Phenom Season is upon us.

Phenom time is that part of the year when The Game's moguls get themselves trapped in bidding wars for the services of untried kids—and usually shell out the hundred thou more for the pride of the organization than because they really want the kid that badly.

But don't feel sorry for the big spenders, because the publicity their huge signings gathers them is cheap at the price, and if they're smart enough to sign a local boy with a big family, they've made it back at the gate the first time they put the kid in the opening lineup.

We digress, however.

What we started to write was how Phenom Season always seems to remind us of our local phenom of a decade ago, Eddie Cereghino.

Eddie was lucky enough to be wanted by the late Yankee scout Joe Devine so badly that he felt that if he didn't land Eddie, his reputation—certainly his and and Yankee pride—would be damaged.

So Joe went all out and the papers claimed Eddie got a hundred thousand, which was probably eighty, and in those days that was only about the second or third hundred thousand bonus which had ever been handed out by any organization.

Pittsburgh, you may remember, started the craze in 1950 when they inked Paul Pettit, who turned out to be a pretty fair Coast League first baseman after his pitching arm went bad at age 19, possibly from his hometown smog in L. A.

Eddie never made it either, as a major leaguer, but it was to his credit that he didn't pick up his marbles and go home until nearly 10 years and a successful high minor league career later.

Again, however, we're digressing.

THE POINT of this piece is to illustrate the Cereghino sense of humor, which pulled him past some disappointing moments, by recalling a long ago incident, which at one time was one of the most-told stories at San Francisco State College.

Cereghino, as you may know, now teaches and coaches at Jefferson High, his alma mater, a position he attained by attending State during the off-seasons of his baseball career.

In 1953, Eddie, preparing for spring training with Kansas City, asked then Gator baseball coach Dick Boyle if he could work out with the Gator squad. Boyle, naturally, consented.

One afternoon Eddie was scheduled to pitch for the State Jayvees in a practice game with the varsity.

As Eddie was on the mound warming up, a veteran Jayvee pitcher who had been thoughtfully watching Cereghino—you know the type, hadn't been off the bench in two seasons—suddenly bolted from the bench to the mound, interrupting Big Ed in the middle of a nonchalant windup.

"Hey, kid," he said confidently to the composed Cereghino, "You're not throwing your curve right."

"Oh," said Eddie, "what am I doing wrong?"

"Here, let me show you," said the Jayvee in a highly professional tone.

He took the ball and threw a few to the catcher, who was at this point turning blue trying to hold back the laughter.

"See," he concluded. "That's how to break them off."

"Thanks," said the straight-faced Cereghino, who, under the careful scrutiny of his tutor, proceeded to cut loose a few of his choicest curves.

"That what you mean?" asked Eddie, still playing it straight.

"Atta boy," replied the proud instructor. "You catch on quick."

The Jayvee trotted back to the bench, watched his pupil throw a few more, and then nudged a teammate, who had just managed to choke down a laugh.

"I don't know what that kid's doing on our squad," he said, motioning to Eddie, "he's varsity material."

Because the Jayvee joined the army a few days later, evidently discouraged with his chances of getting off the bench with Cereghino on the team, he never did, as far as we know, learn who he was tutoring that day.

Nobody, least of all Cereghino, had the heart to tell him.

IF YOU haven't looked into the Daly City summer recreation program as yet, you should, especially if you're getting to the point where shaking hands with new acquaintances constitutes your daily physical exercise or if you're getting bored of watching mock tracheotomies on TV.

There's something for everybody, from youngsters to adults, from cartoons to community chorus. There are even things that will probably please teen-agers—and any organization that can do that can please anybody—even this writer.

Through this program we have finally found, you see, something even we can do.

It's called Lob Ball, which is a euphemism for getting on a softball diamond and making a fool of yourself—a requirement for which we are eminently qualified through years of practice.

Lob ball, a modification of softball, theoretically, affords the performers a greater chance of hitting and handling the ball, and a lesser chance of wounding themselves in the name of exercise.

For instance, the ball has to be pitched in such a way so that at some point it arcs to a height above the batter's head, therefore insuring a nice, soft pitch to hit.

This will be fine until Wilt Chamberlain decides to go out for pitcher and starts stuffing them in overhand on the guys.

There could also be problems should some team, a la Bill Veeck, insert a midget into the lineup, which would send the opposition scurrying for low-ball pitchers.

We haven't inquired as to the penalty if the ball is not pitched in the required arc. Probably a warning and an automatic $50 fine.

Another dandy feature of Lob Ball is a plate about three feet wide. A pitch is a strike even if it hits the plate on the fly. What this does is take care of control problems for pitchers and aids hitters who have a history of not knowing the strike zone.

The real life-saver of a rule is the no-sliding clause. What worries us is whether umpires will consider falling down as sliding. Which could disqualify us as we charged out of the dugout to take the field.

But this really sounds like our kind of game.

Oh, no. We haven't signed up, yet. But we are considering it . . . just as soon as we take off a few pounds.

Greys, Hawks Post Upsets In D. C. Play

Here is a rundown of action last week in baseball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department:

MIDGET-AMERICAN

The PAL Redsox overwhelmed the OLB Broncos 20-2, outhitting the Broncos 15 to 1. Tim Tomasello helped out with an unassisted double play.

The PAL Yankees shut out the OLM Wolves, 3-0, behind the three-hit pitching of Dede Pinelli who struck out eight men. The opposing pitcher, Jerry Montague, struck out nine men.

The OLPH Falcons defeated the BYA Rams 7-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Lenny Hoffman. He struck out 13 men. The Falcons' Ron Pavon was the hitting star, getting three hits and driving in two men.

Carlos Garcia of the Rams got both the Ram hits and drove in the only run.

MIDGET-NATIONAL

The Hunt's Donuts Greys took the role of the giant killer and cut down the high-riding PAL Indians, 7-0.

Don Jones, the pitcher for Hunt's, struck out eight of the Indians, walked two and gave up four hits to the Indians who had not been beaten before.

A big seven-run second inning by the Greys featured a bases loaded double by Gary Weiner and a two-run double by Don Jones.

The Indians took revenge later on their stablemates, the PAL Cardinals, with an 11-1 whipping. Ralph Gage came back to strike out nine batters and five up only one hit. He also smashed a two-run homer. Pat Smgsee and Ron Mosley picked up three hits.

The Holy Angels Colts won their second game in a row by defeating the OLM Gaels 3-1. Held hitless throughout the game, the Colts scored three runs on walks. The game was a pitching duel between Tom Del Santo of the Colts and Steve Becker of the Gaels. Del Santo came in as a relief pitcher in the second inning and held the Gaels hitless.

Hunt's Donuts triumphed over the OLM Dons, 4-0, as Jones tossed a 7 inning no hitter. Rich Washington of Hunt's blasted a two-run homer.

MIDGET-FAR WEST

The OLM Lions downed their stablemates, the OLM Panthers 11-1 this week. Pitcher Jim Feeney allowed the Panthers only one hit while catcher Frank Curry pounded out three for three at the plate.

Gary Solari stole home with two outs and the bases loaded for Harrison Realty to tie the score, then Don Theuner clobbered a double that scored two more runners to save Harrison an 8-6 win over the OLPH Orioles.

Hunt's Donuts Bombers blasted the Trojans 7-2. Steve Murry collected three for three for Hunt's. Don Miller allowed the Trojans two hits.

JUNIOR

The PAL Tigers hold a 10-1 record and first place after an 11-5 win over the OLM Chiefs. Carl Compas and Bobby Nolan held the Chiefs to three hits.

Joe Arrihole put the Skyline Plaza team in the win column again as he fanned nine of the Ben Franklin Press batters and allowed only three hits. Skyline won, 9-3.

Phil Chernellara won the ball game for the PAL Dodgers in their contest with the Holy Angels Shamrocks when he singled in the bottom of the fifth inning and drove in the tying run and go-ahead run. The Dodgers won, 6-3.

Dennis Pickey gave up two hits and struck out nine batters for the Dodgers.

The wildest ball game of the season honor goes to the contest between the BYA Bender Roofers and the OLPH Eagles. The final score ended up, 20-13 in the Roofers' favor. More like a football game than baseball. The Roofers rapped out 19 hits. Mike Caldarola starred for the Roofers with a homer, a triple, a single, and eight RBI's.

INTERMEDIATE

The OLPH Hawks upset the league leading PAL Cubs, 2-0. Abe Shafter allowed the previously undefeated Cubs only two hits. The Hawks had only one hit themselves (Jim McGuire) but turned it into two runs.

The OLM Leopards, meanwhile picked up a win over the Holy Angels Lions, 7-3. A two-hit ball game thrown by Dave Belli gave the BYA Cats another win, 2-1, over the PAL Braves.

U.S. Team Hopeful

BILL TOOMEY, who teaches at El Camino School in South San Francisco, strides through the tape in a meet at Shiraz, Iran, during a tour as a member of the United States national team. Toomey hopes to make the 1964 Olympic team this year.

El Camino Teacher Tries for Olympics

IT'S A LONG way from teaching world history to competing in track, hopefully as an Olympic games performer, but Bill Toomey of El Camino High School combines both and is rated one of the best in each field.

For the past six months after his teaching duties are over, Toomey has been working out for four hours every day in preparation for the Olympic trials.

Most of the teacher's 25 years, in fact, have been spent in working toward this goal.

Toomey compiled an enviable athletic record as a prep at New Cannon High School in Connecticut. He lettered in basketball, baseball and track, finally concentrating on the latter sport after winning a first place in the state meet.

After graduation, Toomey was offered numerous athletic scholarships and finally accepted one from Colorado State.

As a freshman, he set a school record in the broad jump and established the school's varsity record for the same event in his first meet as a sophomore.

TOOMEY states that his own confidence was a big competitve asset along with the fact that he entered as many as six events in a meet.

Toomey won the AAU pentathlon championship in 1961, his senior year, and thus got his start toward the toughest test of athletic ability in sports, the decathlon.

He ranked fifth in the United States in the 10-event stamina test last year and hopes to rank at least third this season.

He has already scored 7,385 points in one meet, which may be good enough to make the United States team that will head for Tokyo in the fall.

Opperman Eyes Publinx After Cal Amateur Win

South San Francisco's Steve Oppermann had his eyes on the National Public Links Crown this week after staging a come-from-behind victory in the 53rd annual California State Championship tournament Sunday at Pebble Beach.

Opperman nipped Oakland's Guy Bill on the first extra hole of a scheduled 36-hole finals match.

He never led throughout the match until the 35th hole when he went one up.

On the final hole, he lined up a one-foot putt, which would have given him the crown right then and there, but blew it.

But he came back on the extra green to take the title as Bill hit a tree with second shot, recovered to drive within 10 feet of the pin, then missed the putt that would have halved the hole.

In addition to the state crown, Opperman also won the Western Amateur crown and the Northern California medal play title.

Trailing him were Jack Luceti, club president, with 212; Santa Maria with 215 and Wayne Guiste with 216.

The field is divided into six flights with 17 golfers in the championship flight.

In addition to trophies for low member gross and low member net winners, more than 20 prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the tournament.

Tigers Stay Undefeated

The PAL Tiger All-Stars of Daly City scored a lopsided 25-1 victory over Our Lady of Mercy Monday to keep an undefeated record in San Francisco Recreation League action.

The hitting power of the Tigers was just too much for all smacked homers. Gage's Ron Moseley and Jerry Mahood all smaked homers. Gage's blast was a grand slam. The first baseman had a good day at the plate with a double and two singles.

Brad Perroni also contributed to the run barrage with a triple with two men on. Perroni took over pitching chores in the fifth inning from hurler Dave Bias, who had held the OLM team to one run on two hits.

MIDGE McMAHON became a dad this week for the first time. The baby boy, Midge Anthony, made his debut Wednesday night and weighed seven pounds, 8 ounces. Ah ha, a potential bowler!

The nursery will be open Monday afternoons during the time of the Bantam League play. We thought perhaps some of the parents would enjoy keeping score for the kids or just relaxing for a while and observing the children during their bowling.

The kids really love having their mom or dad present during their bowling and some of the little bowlers are doing a great job, and are real proud.

National Bantams: Brian Saling, 137; Jack Dills, 129; Al Fasano, 147 and Jana Franklin, 133. American Bantams: (these are brand new bowlers who are participating in league for the first time)—Tom Coleman, 126; Mike Cristofani, 89; Bobby Harp, 105; Paul Bradley, 82, and Mike Serrano, 86.

Big Games Rolled During the Week: Bob Preston, Monday Mixed 4's—223; Jim McNeely, 222, on the Tanglefoot; Roland Isnor of the Surfside Six League rolled a 252. Gabby Mattson of the 530 Scratch had a 227 game. Kelly Ellefson of the same league posted a 242. John Parry had 235; Midge McMahon, 232; Bob Wilson, 224; King and Queen bowler Bob Fisicaro, 224, and Skip Del Sardo, 215.

Lou Engelman and Carol Allen had a day of big games on the Keglerettes League. Lou shot a 231, and Carol a 229. Earlier in the week, Carol had a 217 in the Beachcombers Scratch League.

★ ★ ★

RUTH SEALEYS' Yawner League rolled their first game of the summer season of bowling. Lenore Lewis walked away with both top honors with a 202-482. Wilma Henshall had 164-467. Lee Nerli and Fran Roe were sharing the high series spot with each girl bowling a 540.

Helen Wong had the high game of 207. Tuesday Trio roller Dean Fuller posted the high series of 225-786. Dick Parish had top game of 235.

Two brand new bowlers in the Neptune Daughter League, Darlene Dempsey and Edith Leaf, had an exciting day in their bowling career. Darlene had a turkey and ended up with a nice 167 game. Edith bowled a 168 game. She holds a 96 average in the league.

There will be a new junior league starting tomorrow at 10 a.m. All the kids are new bowlers and eager to start their league bowling. They still need a couple of junior ages (13-18) to fill their trio teams. Qualifications: (and I quote the kids, "A couple of good heads."

Westlake Bowl

RUTH HUME and Ray Schuman split the $15 first prize in the Monday evening No-Tap Scotch Doubles as once again a good time was had by all. Second price of $9 went to Helen Nelson and Gene Tarczy while Earlene Hume and Art Nelson took the $6 third prize. Mystery prize for the evening went to Gary and Edna Cavagna. This popular "fun bowling" feature will again be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Joe Lopez rolled a big 233 game to take high game honors Tuesday night in the Country Club Handicap, then went on to post a 590 series.

Peter McCarthy's 227 game and 592 series were tops for the week in the Golden Gate Handicap League.

BPAA All-Star bowler Tee Rolling led the ladies' 640 Classic with a 203 game and 578 series.

Tops for the week in the Southgate Mixed Fives were Elaine Reyman with 172-505 and George Johnson with a 214 game and 593 series.

Bob Belluomini continues to set the pace in the 805 Scratch League, this time with a 216 game and big 610 series.

Bea Silveria and Vince Wells were the high rollers in the Lakeside Mixed Fives, Bea rolling 183-194 and Vince a 225 game and 549 series.

Leading lady for the week in the Starliters Handicap was Ginny Van Heekeren with a 167 game and 466 series.

★ ★ ★

A "ONE GRAND" 850 Scratch League is being planned for the coming winter season on Tuesdays at 9 p.m., according to league manager Primo Liberatore. Based on 12 teams, the cash prize for the winning team will be $1,000 with $750 going to the second place team and $500 to the third. The league will start September 8 with a cost of $5 per bowler per week. Those interested may register in advance with Primo.

B'nai B'rith "Bowler of the Week" was Walter Walter, shooting a 213 game and 556 series.

Because of the Republican Convention being held in Daly City, the dates of the Sixth Annual Daly City Police Athletic League Benefit Tournament have been changed from August 8 to October 4. A new format will feature open play bowlers only from August 8 to September 7 and league bowlers exclusively from September 8 to October 4.

Serra Bowl

WELL, WE will start off this week by reminding everyone to come in and enjoy our Summer Bowling Circus Week that ends Sunday. We are featuring a Scotch Doubles Tournament with a payoff at the completion of our checkerboard being filled (16 entries) with part of the prize money going into the big pool for Sunday.

You have to have bowled in the tournament at least once during the week to be eligible for the Sunday big payoff.

Now scores for the past days: Jim Burnett in the All Stars came in with 213—537 while J. Barada in the VIP's was collecting a fine 213—540. Herman Modenessi had 239 and Lou Enrice, 536, for the Majors and it was Dick Washington with 256—590 for the Boozers. The Twilighters had Dick Chamberlain's 224 and Rich Barbitta's 547 with Bev Nelson's 182—503 with the Majorettes. Lou Silverman rolled 198—535 for the Nightowls and Marty Segol had 203—553 with the Mixed Masters.

George Dahl rolled 220—573 with the Parkmerced group and Jerry Puertas had 189 and Ted Pardo, 520, for the St. Francis League. Ralph Edwards of the 860 Scratch, gathered 231—568 while John Tomasello had 222 and Carol Fahey, 575, for the B&G Mixed Fives. The Knights of Columbus's Jim Hore had 254 and Sherm Kerley rolled 563 and Claudette Forbes had her first 200 game with a nice 209 with Mike Siegfried's 541 in the Guys and Dolls.

It was Ray Krahl with 226 and Bob Bepler with 197-216-198 and a nice 611, with H. Maxwell's 207—574 for the Belles and Beaus.

The 825 Scratch had Frank Pigirclomo's 213 and Roger Luhrs, 560. J. Mibach rolled 207 and Craig Cohen had 525 with the Gigolos and Sal Romero had 205—567 for the Foresters. The Friarettes' Marge Chaufe had 162—439 and Mary Adams rolled 175 and 459 for the Femme Fatales. Gene Mardell for the Feather Dusters had 167—433 and Nancy Wirth rolled 193 and Bonnie Darrow, 447, for the Coffee Clatch. The Rocking Bowlers saw Jackie Fishstrom 'twistin in with 187 and Grace Pitcher had 463.

Rosella Intaschi had 179—520 for the Budget Boosters, followed by Sue Smith with 191—485 with the Engineers. Dorothy Millard rolled in with a great 220—596, just missing that 600 circle. In the Friday Scratch League, Tom Harrop had 571 and Bob Robbins had 208 for the Cocktail League.

Looking Over a Potential School Site

Thornton Fish Story

WHILE THE dedication ceremonies of Thornton Beach State Park were going on recently, Cook Perata of South San Francisco was casting a sardine-baited line from the nearby shore. He came up with a 20-pound striped bass measuring 36 inches. He reeled the beauty in just as the ceremonies were ending. Dave Friedenberg, right, vice president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce was on hand to examine the prize catch.

4 Winners Announced

Four golfers were named winners in the annual tournament staged by the Westlake Catholic Men's Club at the Sonoma Golf Club.

Bob Foppiano and Bill Cardiel tied for the low gross with scores of 84. Howie Poblitz won the low net with a 77 and Bill Ahern was declared the winner of the hole-in-one contest when he came within a foot of the cup.

The winners and other participants sat down to an awards dinner after the tournament. Marty Ruane was chairman of the event.

COMMENT

THE WORDS of Charles DeTurk, state director of parks and beaches, at formal dedication ceremonies at Thornton Beach Park the other day have an ominous ring that should reverberate throughout California in the next few years.

In essence, he warned that in the year 2000—only 36 years from now—Californians would have to reserve space in state parks two years in advance. It was a sober warning that should give us all cause for concern.

While he painted this dark picture, he also took time out to praise San Mateo County for its efforts in meeting the recreational needs of county residents.

WE THINK Mr. DeTurk should have gone one step further. It would have been nice if he had also praised the role local officials played in the development of Thornton Beach.

The big push in behalf of the development began several years ago. Doing the shoving was the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce and two members in particular—Fred Martin and Hugh Smith.

They kept "pushing" the Daly City Council, which in turn "pushed" State Sen. Richard Dolwig and the state's division of parks and beaches. Martin and Smith also made several trips to Sacramento for the specific purpose of trying to shake loose available state funds for the Thornton project.

What ultimately resulted is Thornton Beach Park as we know it today—a well laid out development comprising picnic facilities, a graded path to the beach, a large black-topped parking area and restrooms.

While we're at it, plaudits also should be given to North County developer Henry Doelger for donating the Thornton Beach property to the city in the first place.

So, to all those who played a role in giving the North County a park to be proud of, we say "thank you" for this ray of sunshine in what Mr. DeTurk believes may be an otherwise dark future for recreation.

Saved by the Busy Signal

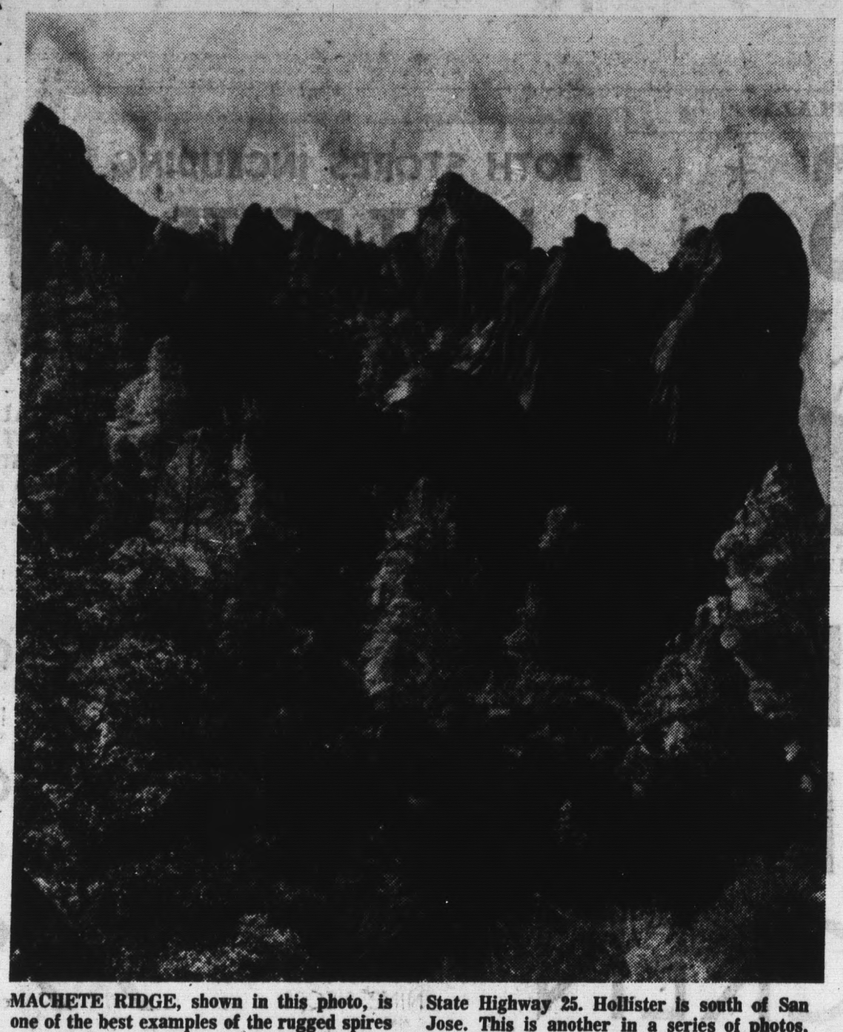
AS WE ALL know, the telephone is a pretty busy instrument here in the North County. Newest wonder of the electronic age, we're told, is a system that would make it not so busy for us anymore. It's called the Automatic Calling Unit and it has some frightening aspects.

It will enable computers to dial telephone numbers and talk to each other without human help or supervision.

At present, machines can't communicate with one another unless a man is on hand to work the dial. But when they can get along without homo sapiens, they may start thinking they can do to people what the automobile did to the horse.

What may save us from all this is the busy signal. Through the years, man has become inured to that and other electronic frustrations. But when a computer phones a friend, only to be thwarted by the busy buzz, chances are it will blow a fuse and call for help.

The Pinnacles



MACHETE RIDGE, shown in this photo, is one of the best examples of the rugged spires or pinnacle remnants for which the Pinnacles National Monument is named. These last remains of an ancient volcano are located 35 miles south of Hollister, a short distance off State Highway 25. Hollister is south of San Jose. This is another in a series of photos, depicting parks, national monuments and historical areas within a day's driving time of the North County.

The Gall of Some Thieves!

Don Miller

THE GALL of some thieves. It seems to be getting embarrassingly worse these days.

First there was that well-dressed boulevardier, posing as a salesman, who walked into Val's Redwood Room Restaurant back in mid-March, calmly asked the owner's son where the boss was and when directed to him, even more calmly proceeded to rob the joint of $5,300.

A little later the same month, the men in blue from Broadmoor and South San Francisco thought they had a thief all bottled up in the Alec Discount Department Store, only to discover later that Mr. Burglar had given them the slip through a side door—after boldly shorting out the alarm system.

Things got downright sticky early in April when his honor, Daly City Mayor Micheal DeBernardi, discovered that a mayor is just as fair game for a thief as John Ordinary Citizen.

That realization came about when his gas station at Westmoor and Southgate was robbed of $400 by two bandits who really knew how to play it cool. When a customer drove in for gas while the holdup was in process, the robbers merely ordered station operator Frank Nelson to make the sale as if nothing was going on.

Later the same month, burglar gall reached a new high when thieves ransacked the home of Patrick O'Neill of 298 Westlake Avenue and before carting away household goods valued at almost $1,200, threw a cozy party with wine and food before leaving the premises.

★ ★ ★

BUT WHAT really got us going on this thief effrontery bit was the disclosure the other day of how the guy who carted about $2090 out of Westmoor High School last fall went about it all.

This character got picked up by Sacramento police recently and after a considerable go-around of questioning and all that, he finally confessed that he was the phantom school thief.

Phantom because he never left any clues. And school because since 1961, he had operated a profitable racket of stealing solely from school buildings throughout California and on occasion, in neighboring states.

This racket had reached 56 schools before the Sacramento good guys stepped in.

Among the school heists he admitted were the Westmoor burglary and similar forays in South San Francisco, Pacifica and San Carlos.

His modus operandi, from what Sgt. Tom Culley of the Daly City police department tells us, has to rank in the top echelon of the Department of Gall. The routine went something like this:

Our perennial schoolboy would visit his objective a few days or a week ahead of target night. He would walk into the school office during business hours and casually inquire about basketball schedules or the time of a dance or anything you might walk into a school and ask about.

While he was about this, he would slyly eye the office safe, usually a walk-in affair that in most cases could be seen from the front counter.

The purpose of all this was to case the safe (or the joint if you like cliches) and determine what safe-cracking tools would be needed. After all, no sense in hauling a melange of equipment that wouldn't be needed.

Later on, usually a day or so before target night, our man in business would visit the school again and hide his bag of tools somewhere on the schoolgrounds.

The theory behind this otherwise mysterious maneuver was that if he was seen walking at night toward the school with bag in hand, someone might get suspicious and call the good guys. Which, of course, was to be studiously avoided.

ON THE BIG night, then, Mr. Gall would ease onto the schoolgrounds, pick up his tools in trade, let himself into the school by one means or another (at Westmoor, it was by removing a plastic skylight cover over a restroom) and proceed with the business at hand.

This business most always involved that safe in the office. And the method of cracking it rarely varied. Our expert technician would cut a sort of V-shaped hole through the steel, reach through and activate a mechanism that would open the door.

With such a smooth operation going for him, the school thief probably figured his racket could lead to an early retirement on a handsome retirement income.

But, Culley says, he didn't correctly gauge the determination of the Sacramento police.

Since most of the school burglaries had been in the capitol area, Sacramento had launched a blitzkrieg to catch the phantom.

Part of the blitzkrieg involved questioning anyone in the vicinity of a school that had been hit and checking all the answers.

During one of these question sessions our boy happened to be on the scene and when his anwers led to the discovery that he had a fat police record behind him, things began to look up for Sacramento and down for the phantom.

However, no link could be established with the school thefts and that's the way it went for a while until one night when a Sacramento detective, on a hunch, decided to drive by the guy's house.

As he was doing so, who should happen to be tooling along in the other direction but our man in business.

The detective followed him and the trail led to a house where a group of men, later described as accomplices, were gathered. The officer radioed for assistance and 30 police surrounded the house.

A squad broke in, seized a quantity of loot and arrested the phantom.

Which meant graduation, at long last, for our perennial schoolboy, the revocation of his phantom's license and, thank heaven, an end to all that gall.

North County Notebook

Pun-ing in a Topless Suit

Ron Bates

THIS FUROR in the Bay Area over the new topless bathing suit is something that just can't be ignored by a columnist. It lends itself to too many puns and, let's face it, it's something that seems to dominate conversation nowadays.

Besides, an incident or two and some comments that I've dug up bring the matter into my journalistic jurisdiction — the North County.

With my nose (??) for news, I might have uncovered something.

The thing that got me to thinking that this might be a local problem was an anonymous telephone call I received a week ago Friday.

The caller very seriously informed me that five models were going to wear the new topless bathing suit at Thornton Beach the next day.

Coincidentally, that was the Saturday Thornton Beach State Park was due to be dedicated with a pot full of state, county and city officials scheduled to be there.

It didn't hit me until later that perhaps there was a connection. Having been an observer at several dedications since they gave me my walking papers at San Jose State a few years ago, I can readily see why somebody would anticipate a small crowd.

Unfortunately, the caller gave me too late a notice to get it in the previous edition of The Post. I could envision the tenuous slide condition around the beach (you remember our story last year on the slide threat at Thornton), being given a rapid impetus by crowds that would flock to the dedication ceremonies.

Particularly if our anonymous caller sat the girls up on the speaker's platform.

ANYWAY, there I was with my overgrown Brownie, eagerly anticipating some good pictures. I could see the officials stumbling over their words as they tried to remember what they were there to speak about.

Everytime a car drove up with a woman in it, I peered into it. But all to no avail.

At least five girls did show up with topless suits, but the age category was such that nobody really noticed them.

Ah, well! I probably would have fogotten to focus or put the camera into the flashbulb or something like that.

THE TELEPHONE CALL, however, got me to wondering what would happen if the topless bathing suit did make its debut in the North County.

Chief Neil Tremaine of Pacifica appears to take a dim view of the subject. In a special order issued to his officers, he says that any adventuresome miss who graces Pacifica's shores attired in the topless suit should be asked discreetly to cover herself.

If she refuses, she is to be arrested for violating a section of the Penal Code—outraging public decency.

I contend that Tremaine's order is out of line. If his officer asked her to cover up, wouldn't that come under the category of concealing evidence?

The County Sheriff's Office has also come out with an official policy on the subject—er—subjects—er subject. Deputies are not to blush if they should come upon a girl wearing a topless suit. And no arrests will be made — unless someone complains.

Complaints, I would guess, would probably be determined by statistics. You know—like 36-24-34.

DALY CITY Chief Roland Petrocchi also seems to be taking a broad view of the subject.

I asked him what orders he had given his men in case they came across a lovely young thing basking in Daly City's sun? (Yes, I said sun! You know, that orange colored thing that occasionally cuts through the fog.)

He said he had told them to call him to the scene right away — to examine the evidence, naturally.

Now that's devotion to duty, isn't it?

I guess what you think of the topless suits all depends on your point of view.

'Kate' Is A Natural

Barbara Bladen

"KISS ME KATE" is a natural for the 400th anniversary of the Bard.

However, it takes the greatest care and style to put it over in 1964 because the action, songs and lyrics are more familiar probably than the original "Taming of the Shrew," so often has it been performed in the past 20 years.

It's like welcoming an old friend to the Curran Theatre for the Civic Light Opera Association's performance.

As the house lights dimmed, the most often heard remark was, "Why I can hum or sing just about every song in the show."

COLE PORTER outdid himself in pouring out song after song that have gone down in musical history for this show, which has been translated into more foreign languages than any other American musical in history.

Producers Edwin Lester and Robert Schuler (husband of the star, Pat Munsel) have clothed the frisky "Shrew" in the most opulent costumes and settings imaginable from the talented hands of Robert O'Hearn and Gwen Wakeling.

For the leads they have cast the ideal pair, Robert Wright, a tall stalwart matinee idol as the egotistical producer and diminutive Pat Munsel, an Atherton favorite, as the tempestuous Lili Vanessi.

Wright seems born to the part particularly in such swashbuckling songs as "Kiss Me Kate" and "Where Is the Life That Late I Led?"

Miss Munsel starts out lower and more tensely but she sings the famous "I Hate Men" with delicious timing and satire and explodes all over the stage after that.

ELIZABETH ALLEN, the "away we go" girl on the Jackie Gleason show, comes near to stealing the gondola in the show with her sexy, leggy version of "Always True to You (In My Fashion)."

The weakest of the top players is Roy Fitzell, a last-minute cast member who portrays the hoofer, Bill. His voice is thin and his dance numbers are limited in this production.

Certain scene stealers are the old timers, Allen Jenkins as one of the gangsters and Lyle Talbot as the millionaire Southerner who loses Lili through drowsiness.

Avon Long prances through the heralded, "It's Too Darn Hot" with an excellent chorus line and the pace and action of the action is as volatile as the Mantua countryside.

BOOKS

By SAMUEL CHANDLER
Daly City Librarian

IF YOU like music, but can't read a note, there is a book for you: David Randolph's "This Is Music."

It is the very book that teenagers and their elders should read as they argue about their respective preferences in music. I should like to have read it with the Emperor Nelson's fans whom I chauffeured to school last year.

"This Is Music" is divided into three parts. The first part effectively argues that music "exists within itself and does not have to go out of itself for its subject matter or for cause . . . and it requires no other reason for being."

RANDOLPH finds that the quality as well as the listener's appreciation of a piece of music depends upon the composer's use of five basic elements: melody, rhythm, tone or color, harmony and form.

Moreover, the type of music that a composer creates depends on his use of these elements. They are the foundations of his style and his techniques.

Part two is an elementary but lucid description of the elements and forms of music.

Part three contains six parts: listening for sensuous pleasure, listening for intellectual pleasure, additional suggestions for listening, listening to program music, how to recognize composers and a final word.

The final part ends with these words: "Once the listener is willing to meet music on its own terms, he will have prepared himself for a wealth of esthetic satisfaction that—in its emotional and intellectual variety—is literally unlimited.

TO THE EDITOR:

Regarding those topless swimwear for women:

The topless suit will never last,
For during summers sunny,
Who will apply the tanning cream,
Where they used to hide pin-money?

Peninsula Panorama

Weather by Push-Button

George Whitesell

SOME OF the most modern homes in the world are right here on the Peninsula. The architects have gone all-out on design and the results are surprising, to say the least.

And some Peninsulans have already returned from the World's Fair in New York where there are some fantastic homes and furniture for the future.

No doubt these will inspire local builders to new heights of the incredible when it comes to home building.

But they ain't seen nothin' yet.

Dreams of today have a habit of turning into the nightmares of tomorrow. Still, a "dream room of tomorrow" designed by an engineer named John L. Matrone is intriguing to think about and, perhaps, a bit frightening.

The idea employed in this is called "total environment" and it features, among other things, "instant weather."

Matrone's "dream room" would be a 10 by 20-foot play area filled with all the gadgets needed to create any desired atmosphere.

It has a magic carpet licked because it won't even need a carpet to transport its owner wherever he wants to go.

★ ★ ★

THE FLOOR could roll to simulate the deck of an ocean liner. Fans, heating elements, lights and hi-fi mood music would be coordinated to simulate any setting in the world.

To top it off would be a projector, hidden unobstrusively in the room, to cover one complete wall with motion picture color scenes from the spot the inhabitant would like to be be in at the moment.

For example, pushing the "Hawaii" button on the controls would bring a beach scene with the waves gently lapping the shore and a hula girl undulating in the foreground while Hawaiian music softly filled the air.

BRIGHT, SUN-TAN producing rays would pour down from the ceiling, the odor of palms and ocean spray would be wafted about on an artificial breeze, and you could hear the sound of the sea as a background to the guitars and ukuleles.

Just how you would be filled to the brim with pineapple juice, a quaint Hawaiian custom for all visitors, is not explained.

On the other hand, you would be perfectly safe from people who were trying to sell coconut hats, muu-muus, orchid leis, and loud shirts.

And you wouldn't have to hire a guide to steer you to all the places where he gets commissions on whatever you may buy.

★ ★ ★

NOW, PUSH the button marked "Alaska" and get an entirely different scene.

You could even get snow, wind, a vision of the mighty glaciers, and the aroma from the fish canneries. It all depends upon how the computer that runs the whole caboodle is programmed.

In such abrupt transitions from Hawaii to Alaska, however, it would be wise to take precautions against catching cold.

With all the elements that make up this big idea working you could pre-select any place in the world you might favor.

★ ★ ★

JUST PUSH the button and be in Paris, Hong Kong, Rome, or Little Tudbury in the Thames.

You don't have to program anything you don't want, and, unless something goes wrong with the machinery, you are unlikely to wind up in Rock Springs, Wyoming, Peoria, or Lower Slobbovia.

And, wherever you are, you could always just step out the door and be back on the Peninsula.

This department has no idea of how much this fascinating "dream room of tomorrow" is going to cost—but it has a hunch that a couple of marijuana cigarettes would come cheaper.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

PLANNING a Fourth of July picnic? Many will have a barbecue in the back yard if the fog stays away. Others will pack lunch baskets and head for the country. In the backyard, beside a cool lake or under the trees in the park, outdoor eating is fun. And we'd like to add to the pleasure by offering some ideas that will brighten the menu.

This first casserole comes from Mrs. Peggy Street of Los Angeles and its name gives the best clue to what kind of casserole it is.

QUICK AND EASY LASAGNE

8 ounces noodles, cooked and drained
2 pounds ground meat
2 cans tomato sauce
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup sour cream
8 ounces American cheese, grated
2 Tbsp. green pepper, chopped
½ cup chopped onion
2 Tbsp. lemon juice.

Brown beef, add tomato sauce. Remove from heat and add the rest of the ingredients. Mix well and pour over noodles. Pour in a greased casserole and bake 45 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Serves six generously.

☆ ☆ ☆

EVERYONE seems to like macaroni and cheese so why not make a casserole of this old favorite?

MACARONI AND CHEESE

8 ounces elbow macaroni
2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
2 Tbsp. flour
Salt and pepper
½ pound cheese, sharp, shredded
2 cups milk
½ cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook macaroni as directed on the package; drain. Add butter, flour, salt, pepper and cheese; toss lightly. Place in a greased two-quarter casserole. Pour milk over top, cover and bake in a 375-degree oven for 30 to 40 minutes or until thickened. Uncover, top with crumbs; brown under broiler. Makes six servings.

☆ ☆ ☆

WHILE I'M think about casseroles I'd like to add one that is really simple. For want of a better name, we'll call it Simple Simon.

SIMPLE SIMON CASSEROLE

2 cans chili beans
2 cans spaghetti
½ cup grated cheese

Mix the beans and spaghetti together. Pour into a casserole and sprinkle cheese over the top. Bake in 350-degree oven till bubbly. About 30 minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

THIS SALAD combines three kinds of beans with a tart dressing that makes an eye and palate-pleasing salad.

THREE BEAN SALAD

1 can French green beans
1 can wax beans
1 can kidney beans
½ cup chopped green onions
½ cup green pepper, chopped
½ cup oil
½ cup vinegar
½ teapsoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup sugar

Drain all liquid from the beans. Combine in a large bowl with the onions and green pepper. Mix oil, vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar and pour over beans. Marinate overnight.

MRS. JILL BENSCH of 739 Maddux Drive, Colma, provided this final recepie for cookies and I am sure you will find them as delicious and attractive to the eye as I did.

CHOCOLATE CRACKLES

4 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ cup chopped walnuts (optional)
½ cup salad oil
4 eggs, unbeaten
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup powdered sugar

Melt chocolate in top of a double boiler. Remove from water and blend in the oil and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla.

DALY CITY LIBARIAN Rose Marie Kraus holds the rapt attention of the picture book set during the weekly story-book hour at the Westlake Library. Miss Kraus entertains the youngsters in Westlake at 10:15 a.m. weekly and does the same thing Tuesdays at the John Daly branch of the library on Mission Street. Miss Kraus has been children's librarian in Daly City for the past seven years and has wide experience with youth, both as a librarian and as a teacher. According to City Librarian Samuel Chandler, "she has entertained hundreds of children. Her style as a story teller is suited to the children's tastes and aptitudes." The story hours are free and open to the public. (Post-Times Photo)

S.S.F. Boys Club Offers Activities

The first of four planned excursions for the South San Francisco Boys' Club will take place today when several members will go to see the San Francisco Giants in action.

Other trips planned are to Frontier Village on July 15, the San Francisco 49-ers' training camp on July 29, and to Santa Cruz on August 12. Cost of the trips will vary with the cost of bus and admission charges.

The Boys' Club will be open this summer from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will remain closed on Saturday and Sunday.

The club's summer program will include a "Frontiersman Camp" in Orange Park, a beginners' baseball league, trampoline, air rifle, woodship, arts and crafts, cooking class weightlifting, and educational films and programs in the library.

Because of a great demand the regular movie schedule of the Boys' Club will continue through the summer.

Cal Completes Census Mailing

The University of California at Berkeley has completed mailing 65,000 questionnaires to obtain a census of its far-flung alumni.

The census seeks to obtain information on former Cal students for use during the university's centennial in 1968.

Chancellor Edward W. Strong noted that one in every three alumni of the Berkeley campus will receive a questionnaire.

Questions include occupation, number of homes and cars owned, income, age and family size.

ENJOY PLAYING CARDS? Dread the long summer months when most people are gone or too busy with vacationing children to have time to have a friendly game or two?

Despair no more! The members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mothers' Club have made arrangements to continue the parish's monthly whists right on through the summer, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Richard Holmberg.

Mrs. Holmberg, who was recently installed in the office of Mothers' Club president, reports that Mrs. Leon Fellman has graciously consented to carry on as general whist chairman for the 19th consecutive year. Mrs. Fellman's acceptance of the post was the occasion for much grateful enthusiasm on the part of club members who, Mrs. Holmberg said, promptly accalimed her one of the club's most loyal and dedicated participants.

Working with Mrs. Fellman for the coming months will be Mrs. Ray Chelone and Mrs. Joseph Daniels who will be in charge of the first summer whist when it is held Tuesday afternoon at 1 in the school hall.

According to Mrs. Loraine Mignault, publicity chairman for the club, the women have obtained a beautiful array of pizes and will welcome all who wish to join them for a pleasant afternoon. The school hall is located at 80 Wellington Avenue in the heart of Daly City.

ON HIS WAY to a new and exciting different life in Africa is Lewis Porter who until a few short days ago was teaching fifth grade students in South San Francisco's Buri Buri Grade School.

Young Porter, a native of Culver City, came to Buri Buri in 1962, immediately following his graduation from Sterling College in Sterling, Kans.

An active Presbyterian, Porter became involved in the church's efforts with minority groups in San Francisco and came to feel, he explains, that his talents and great enjoyment of teaching might be of some value to the Christian program in underdeveloped countries.

After corresponding with the Presbyterian Commission on Ecumenical Missions and Relations, he was offered an elementary teacher's position in the Hope School of Ebolowa, Cameroon, Africa.

Porter began training this week for his foreign assignment in a special school in Stoney Point, N.Y. He expects to be in the Cameroon by July 31 to begin his three-year teaching assignment.

A FINAL DRIVE to secure an additional 12 Navy mothers in Pacifica is underway this week with Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan and Mrs. Mary Christofani spearheading the attempt to have a charter with 25 names ready to submit to the national office prior to the time the Navy Mothers of America hold their annual convention in Dallas in August.

For the unitiated, the Navy Mothers of America are currently in the process of forming a Pacifica unit and it is the hope of the organizing women that they will be ready to receive their charter before the convention so that California state organzer Caroline DeMartini may receive a citation at the Dallas meeting.

"California, with 57 Navy Mother Clubs, is already leading the nation in the number of units and Mrs. De Martini has succeeded in beginning two more groups, "Our club would raise the total to three," Mrs. Christofani said. "If we can bring our unit in by the middle of July, she (Mrs. DeMartini) is sure of recognition for exceptional work."

Any mother who has had a son or daughter serving in the Navy, Coast Guard or Marines or the reserve units of those services is eligible to become a member of this very fine and highly respected benevolent group. For more information, call Mrs. Calhan at 355-2816 or Mrs. Christofani at 359-1508.

Greek Girl Is a Guest Of Family

Accepting an invitation of Mrs. Harry Farros to come and visit in South San Francisco, Anna Papavasilious of Athens, Greece, arrived here and has decided the Bay Area is pretty much all right.

In fact, she likes it here so well, she's decided to stay awhile and study at the University of California for her master's degree in applied mathematics.

The Farros family met Anna two summers ago while visiting Harry Farros' relatives in a suburb just outside Athens, also Anna's home.

They renewed their friendship a year ago when the Farros' returned to Athens, and since turnabout is fair play, decided it was time for Anna to visit them at their home on Palm Avenue.

When asked if she missed Greece, the dark-haired, sparkly-eyed miss replied "no," but that this area does remind her very much of her home.

Especially when she drives along the Bay from San Francisco, she can almost imagine she's back in Greece.

San Francisco homes, marching along one after another, also remind her of Athens.

One thing she does miss is swimming in the warm waters of the Aegean Sea. She says she knows the bay water is cold but on sunny days, it's tempting.

Anna is especially happy to be back in a moderate climate, after just having spent five winters in Canada at the University of Montreal where she earned a bachelor's degree in math.

The Farros family has planned a busy schedule for their visitor.

They will leave soon to spend the summer in Palm Springs, and Anna will begin her studies almost as soon as they return at the beginning of fall.

Mrs. Farros, president of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Auxiliary, has plans to interest Anna in doing volunteer work at the Roosevelt School for the Deaf in Burlingame, a favorite project of auxiliary members who spend many hours working with the handicapped children. Anna agrees that she's enjoying the work.

Future plans include teaching in a college or university here or in Canada, and most certainly, a trip back home next summer.

Workshop Is Asked to N.Y.

The San Francisco Actor's Workshop has been invited by the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts in New York City to join other major American professional theater companies in opening the cultural complex's new Vivian Beaumont Theater next year.

The Workshop would perform at the new theater for three weeks in the late spring or early summer next year.

If the invitation is accepted, it would mark the second time that the Workshop has played New York, where "Waiting for Godot" had a six-week run in 1958 en route to the Brussels World Fair.

P-TA Budget Meeting Held

A budget meeting of the various chairmen of the George Washington P-TA was held last week at the home of Mrs. Lydia Petersen.

The tentative budget worked out by the group will be brought to the executive board for approval in September and then to the P-TA membership meeting scheduled October 7.

After the current six-week session, a four-week session from August 3 to August 28 will be held.

Rev. Droke Takes Wesley Pastorate

The Rev. Clifford S. Droke, formerly an associate minister in Campbell, has accepted appointment as minister of Wesley Methodist Church in Daly City.

He succeeds the Rev. Edward Wolfe who has retired.

He served for two years as associate minister at the First Methodist Church in Campbell before accepting the Wesley post.

He also served as pastor of the Methodist Community Church in Dixon where he lived for three years.

In May of this year, he received his bachelor of divinity degree from the Pacific School of Religion in Berkeley.

Previous training includes a year's studies at the University of California in Berkeley and pre-theological training at San Jose State College from 1955 to 1958.

Members of the church's building committee and Reverend Droke met recently with architect Robert Batchelor of San Francisco to discuss plans for the first unit of a new church building that will be erected on Southgate Aevnue, next to the St. Francis Square Shopping Center.

Plans for the first unit have been completed.

Worship services are held at 11 a.m. Sundays in Thomas Edison School at Southgate and Woodland Avenues, Daly City.

Pacifica Jewish Center Presents Flag to Church

The Jewish Community Center of Pacifica has presented an American flag to the First Baptist Church of Linda Mar.

The gift was made in appreciation of use of the church for Jewish High Holy Day services last fall.

Seymour Cain, educational chairman for the donors said:

"You held out your hand to us with help and brotherhood, and we now hold out our hand to you, bearing in it an American flag."

The flag was borne by an honor guard of Boy Scouts of Troop 399. Scouts and their Scoutmaster John F. Chew were Dennis Dugan and Stephen Richards. Arrangements were made for their appearance through Robert D. Ritchie, district scout executive, who also attended.

Lee Myer, who arranged for the Jewish group's services at the church before the Rev. Gene Davis took the pulpit here seven months ago, received the banner. Myer is past commander of American Legion Post 248.

Regular morning worship and the flag presentation was followed by a reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Davis, celebrating their first wedding anniversary.

BETTER BUSINESS

Repair Contracts Need Close Look

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

THE AVERAGE homeowner plans to reroof and make other home improvements during the summer months to keep his home in good repair.

To aid homeowners in avoiding the unscrupulous minority on the business fringe who use sharp practices to victimize the public, the Better Business Bureau offers these questions for homeowners to answer before they sign any contract for home improvement work:

1. Is the company with which you are considering doing business an established firm, or is it composed of itinerants who "just happen to be in the area"?

2. Do you know, or have you investigated to determine before signing a contract whether the company under consideration enjoys a good reputation for performing satisfactory work?

3. Have you checked with homeowners in the area who have dealt with the firm to determine their satisfaction? Any reputable contractor will give you the names of satisfied customers in your area.

4. Was any high pressure used to induce you to sign a contract before you had the opportunity to investigate?

5. Was the "model" job pitch used? Did the company or salesman tell you that your home would be used for advertising purposes as a model home?

6. Was any bait practice used to induce you to respond to an offer? In other words, did the firm quote a low price in an advertisement and then "knock" the product advertised and try to switch you to something higher-priced?

7. Does the contract contain: the name and address of the company; specifications such as type and extent of work; when to be done or completed; descriptions of materials such as quality, grade or name, weight, color, style, etc.; total cost.

8. If any guarantee is given, is it included in the contract? Is it clear and specific as to what adjustment will be made in the event of dissatisfaction?

9. If long-time guarantees are offered, have you reason to believe that the company will be in existence or financially able or willing to fulfill the guarantee. 10 or 15 years later?

10. Have you obtained more than one bid on the same job on exactly the same specifications?

11. Is the company under consideration authorized to represent the manufacturer it claims to represent?

12. Does the company have liability and compensation insurance to protect you in the event of accident?

13. Do you know by what bank or financing agency your contract of note will be financed?

14. Before signing a contract, have you consulted your own bank or financing agency about financing the job?

15. To arrange for a FHA-insured loan, or a loan from your bank, or by mortgage on your home; or by refinancing your mortgage, have you secured estimates or quotations on the job in order to consult the bank before signing a contract?

16. Has it been represented that FHA has anything to do with the performance of the company or guarantee of the job—other than merely insuring the loan granted by your bank?

17. If work is to be sublet, will you be protected against liens on your home? Has your attorney reviewed any contract?

18. Regarding any repairs for which you expect to collect insurance, have you checked with the insurance company first and before signing a contract?

19. Are the things you want done specified clearly in the contract?

Fire Routs A Sleeping Family of 4

Fire of undetermined origin routed a sleeping family of four from their home at 65 Fieldcrest Drive in Daly City early Monday morning.

Firemen estimated damage to the house and contents at $6,000. The home is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bellak and their two children.

The fire began in a first floor garage and completely destroyed the Bellak's Volkswagen station wagon. It charred beams in the garage, damaged the floor of the master bedroom overhead and caused smoke damage throughout the house, firemen said.

During the fire, a hot water heater burst and a gas line ruptured. A boat stored in the garage was partly damaged.

According to firemen, Mrs. Bellak had smelled smoke and called Daly City police who notified the Fire Department.

DOORS SMASHED

Club View Apartments Open Doors

The first unit of a projected $10 million apartment house—shopping center development in South San Francisco has opened.

Visitors toured the 99 apartments in the Club View Apartment complex at 935 El Camino Real on the grounds of the California Golf Club.

Clustered around a four-story circular lobby, the three buildings in the $2.5 million first unit are finshed in natural wood, offset by occasional patches of white.

A 20-foot by 40-foot swimming pool and an adjacent bath house are reached from each building. Another pool and a recreational hall for the use of residents are planned for the second unit.

When completed, the development will include 300 apartments and will be the largest luxury complex of its type on the North Peninsula.

Each floor has a furnished lobby, which residents may use as a spare "living room" for visitors and special occasions.

Underground garages furnish parking, and two elevators in the lobby areas are convenient to all apartments.

Seven different floor plans featuring one, two and three bedroom apartments are available at Club View.

Each apartment has one or two balconies and is equipped with drapes and wall-to-wall carpeting.

Petitions Ask Recall of Brisbane School Board

Petitions were being circulated in North San Mateo County last week calling for the recall of the entire five-member Brisbane School District Board of Trustees.

The recall petition chairman is Allen Rigler and includes members, Margaret Galtin, Michael Nagy, Merle Van Kirk and John Tinker.

With filed the recall text with the San Mateo County School District and charged that the board members:

tional program while collecting tax moneys for the purpose.

State Files Suit Against Colma Dump

The state filed suit in Superior Court in Redwood City Friday to close down the Colma dump.

The suit alleges that the dump, which is located on Hillside Boulevard across from Cypress Lawn Cemetery, continued to operate in violation of abatement orders handed down in 1962.

According to the complaint, the abatement orders followed a hearing before the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District in 1962.

Despite the action of the district, the suit states, that dump has continued to violate the district's Regulation 1 by permitting fires to break out on January 16 and June 6 of this year.

Named as defendants are the owners of the dump company, Gus Pedemonte, Roy Fransoia, Mrs. James Torrigino, and James Bonaccorsi.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Vandals broke a number of windows in a house at 144 Westmoor Avenue, Daly City, police reported last week.

ANNEXATION MEETING

A Reluctant Wooing on Coast

LIKE THE SIRENS of old, the residents of the Montara-Moss Beach area called upon their suitors last week.

But like Ulysses of ancient Greek fame who plugged the ears of his crew and chained himself to the mast of his ship, representatives of Pacifica and Half Moon Bay were, at the best, reluctant to commit themselves in wooing the area for annexation.

Some 200 resident of the Half Moon Bay basin area turned out to the meeting sponsored by the Moss Beach-Montara Improvement Association held in the Farallon View School.

Although frequently punctuated by applause and laughter, the meeting was well ordered after Larry Davis, acting as master of ceremonies, carefully outlined ground rules at the outset of the meeting.

RESIDENTS made it clear that their main interest is in preserving the existing character of the Coastside community against encroaching subdivisions such as one planned by the Doelger Development Company in the north Montara area just south of Pedro Mountain—either through incorporation or by annexation to Half Moon Bay or Pacifica.

Mayor Fred Ballew in the first speech of the evening offered Pacifica's help to the area in any study of either annexation or incorporation.

He made it clear, however, that Pacifica has no special interest in "grabbing" the area.

The other Pacifica representatives, Assistant City Manager Mel Davis, drew applause when he urged residents to decide themselves whether their "community interests" are to the north or to the south, and said:

"You all know you can't postpone your city too long. The longer you postpone, the less you can control development around you."

A LEADER in the Cities Annexation League, the group that is campaigning for annexation of the Miramar-El Granada-Princeton area to Half Moon Bay, said his group is interested in "one thing—a voice in our own affairs."

He said although an annexation move was started by a majority of the people in the area three years ago, it was blocked by a small group of businessmen who filed a petition of incorporation, which was later defeated by voters.

Although the legal move postponed any annexation attempt for two years, he said the deadline of the annexation injunction expired last week.

During a meeting at the Miramar Hotel he said only four residents voted for incorporation, five voted to continue as an unincorporated area, none voted for annexation to Pacifica, while some 80 residents voted for annexation to Half Moon Bay.

Geographically, we are already a part of Half Moon Bay," he added. "And Half Moon Bay has already made most of its false starts and remedied them."

Mayor Ellis R. Benson of Half Moon Bay started off by refuting a rumor that an agreement had been made whereby Half Moon Bay would annex the El Granada-Miramar-Princeton area while Pacifica would "take" the Moss Beach and Montara area.

"This is grossly unfounded. It is really nothing more than a joke," Benson declared.

He said that any annexation of the Moss Beach-Montara area is actually "premature" at this time as Half Moon Bay is already involved in annexing the area immediately to its north.

"We are a small city just getting on our feet. About all we can do is take one step at a time."

Benson added while the area has not yet developed a tax base, a potential "does lie here, but probably not before five or ten years."

OFFERING ANY help possible, Benson emphasized that Half Moon Bay is "still very neutral."

Joe Romeo, representing the "Home Rule Group," asserted that incorporation would be best to retain local control.

"If we stay in our own city we can spend money as we see fit," Romeo argued. "If there are people who believe Half Moon Bay has so much, why the hell don't they move over there?"

Everyone agreed that if the area either incorporates as a city or annexes to one of its neighboring cities it would get a large additional income from local sales tax.

One member of the audience asked, "What shall we name the new town?"

Laughter greeted the retort, also from the audience:

"Half Moon Bay!"

A lengthy question and answer period followed speeches. Improvement club members agreed to hold a second meeting to which builders and real estate developers will be invited.

CSM Adopts Budget With 2.7% Boost

College of San Mateo trustees have adopted a preliminary 1964-65 budget calling for an increase of 2.7 cents in the district tax rate—nearly half a cent less than had been forecast three weeks ago.

Before taking that action at a meeting on College Heights campus, the board approved wage increases of approximately 4 per cent for the coming fiscal year for all personnel and extended its program of district-paid health plan premiums to cover the faculty.

Those two steps will involve an outlay of an additional $182,260 during 1964-65.

The general fund operating budget, on the basis of the preliminary total of $5,468,070, is up $1.27 million over the 1963-64 estimated budget and carries a tax rate of 45.83 cents per $100 assessed valuation. A rate of 46.2 cents had been indicated at the board meeting June 3.

The budget increase—roughly 30 per cent—runs slightly ahead of the anticipated increase of 25 percent in 1964-65 enrollment at the college.

Coast Crash Hurts Eight

Eight persons, including six members of a Pacifica family, were hurt Thursday night in a three-car crash on Cabrillo Highway in Pacifica.

Highway patrolmen said the cars were driven by Mrs. Tansy Houghton, 32, of 204 Lauren Avenue, Pacifica; Reuben Hay, 46-year-old sales manager of 1798 Holly Avenue, San Bruno; and Mrs. Agnes Louise McAndrews, 35-year-old waitress of 1163 Bayan Way, Pacifica.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. McAndrews, who was treated at Peninsula Hospital and then transferred to Letterman Hospital for treatment of head, rib and leg injuries.

Treated at Peninsula and dismissed were Hay, Mrs. Houghton, and her children, Steve, 12, Annett, 11, Lucinda, 8, Lynn, 14, and Tammy, 4.

2. I Get Around — Beach Boys
3. Angelito— — Rene and Rene
4. People — Barbra Streisand
5. Girl From Ipanema — Getz and Gilberto
6. Memphis — Johnny Rivers
7. Dang Me — Roger Miller
8. Little Old Lady From Pasadena — Jan & Dean
9. Can't You See She's Mine — Dave Clark Trio
10. Don't Let the Sun Catch You Crying — Gerry and Pacemakers

DAMAGE REPORTED

There's plenty of room at the rear of a VW Station Wagon because there's no front.

The whole thing is rear.

Beginning to end.

Except for the number of seats (a mere 9), you'd swear you were in the real thing.

There's almost as much headroom as in a real bus, and 21 windows to go around.

And if you'd like a genuine, bus-type aisle to pace up and down, it's yours.

The really staggering thing is how much the Volkswagen Station Wagon can hold.

Not quite as much as a real bus, but almost twice what goes into a regular station wagon.

(The VW is the only bus that can park in a bus stop and still leave room for the bus.)

Outside, the VW Station Wagon may be frontless.

But inside, it's endless.

Pacifica Boy Hurt on Cycle

A Pacifica tot was admitted to Peninsula Hospital last week with head injuries after he lost control of his bicycle and rolled under a parked truck.

Daniel Sale, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sale, 1055 Manzanita Drive, was admitted with head injuries and lacerations.

The accident reportedly occurred about 8:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

Building Gets County Okay

A use permit to allow construction of a new $830,000 club house at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club was approved last week by the county planning

The old clubhuse, built mre than 42 years age, is going to be torn down this fall to make way for the new Junipero Serra freeway, which will also take a big slice off of the eastern side of the tenth fairway.

The course is being remodeled

The new clubhouse is to be located in the southeast corner of the property near the tenth green and eleventh tee.

Architec Harry Turko of Mario Gaidano's office, said it will be a "very country clubby," two-story split-level building with a shingle exterior and a flat roof.

S.S.F. School Bids Opened

South San Francisco school officials last week received and opened bids on furniture for the nearly completed Monte Verde school near Skyline.

Covering pupils' desks and other furnishings, the bids will be reviewed by staff members before being presented to trustees for their action July 20.

S.S.F. Fire Chief's View To Be Sought

Since South San Francisco's Fire Chief John Marchi has recently opposed apartment house projects with interior streets less than 26 feet wide, the city's Planning Commission has voted to ask for his comments on allowing residences on both sides of 20-foot alleys.

The action came after the second appeal within two weeks for permission to erect a second single-family residence which would front on Second Lane between Commercial and Baden avenues.

Smaller homes fronting on alleys are not unusual in the city, but Planning Director Anita Robertson has said they should be phased out before the area deteriorates and requires redevelopment.

Commissioners, unanimously approving Clifford Wells' motion to ask for the Chief Marchi's opinion, noted that Chief Marchi has said that 26-foot streets, with one eight-foot lane for parking on either side are too narrow for fire trucks to get through. He called these streets "substandard," they noted.

The alleys, 20 feet wide to start with, frequently have autos parked on both sides, limiting passage space to as little as four feet, planners said. ..

Commissioners voted to hold Antonio Palomba's request, for a second structure to the rear of 822 Commercial Avenue, until they can make a decision.

A similar request, from James and Ramona Hubrel, to erect a second dwelling at the rear of 729 Baden Avenue, has been denied, appealed to the City Council, and returned to the planners for action. They voted to hold that over also.

A long-held item, the Catholic church's plans for expansion of All Souls School into Fourth Lane, was dropped at the church's request.

Pastor Monsignor Eugene Gallagher asked that the matter be dropped from the planning commission agenda after months and months of continuance, because the church's plans have been "extensively changed" by the disastrous church fire this year.

Commissioners set a July 13 public hearing on Mayer & Young's amended petition to rezone 58 acres of hillside property for a planned community apartment development.

A correction in boundary lines in American Guild Homes' appeal for a rezoning in Westborough, was approved on an amended petition.

Nat Lucchesi and Adolph Corruccini won approval of a variance for a three-foot side-yard encroachment at 717 Linden Avenue, and were given a use permit to build four dwelling units there.

C. G. Potter's request for a use permit allowing 24 dwelling units on Mission Road west of Chestnut Avenue was approved, as was Bayview Federal Savings' request for a sign permit at 370 Grand Avenue.

Planners approved a tentative map for West Park Unit One, and agreed to abandonment of certain easements in the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes industrial area.

Hale Black's request for an angle driveway and for side and rear-yard setbacks at 98 Jefferson Street, was continued.

So were Arthur Viat's request for over-normal lot coverage at 808 West Orange Avenue, and Anthony Piazza's requested variance for a sideyard encroachment at 1289 Crestwood Drive.

HUB CAPS TAKEN

Ruth Galban of 2 Frankfort Street, Daly City, reported to police over the weekend that four hubcaps had been stolen from her auto, parked in front of her house.

S.S.F. Opens Summer Program of Recreation

South San Francisco's 1964 Summer Recreation Program has opened at 18 parks, playgrounds and school areas.

Expanded to cover more thoroughly all interest and all parts of the city the recreation program offers activities from ages 6 to 96.

New to this summer's list of activities are such activities as "Experiment in Expression" for 7-15-year-old girls, adult social dance classes, and a music workshop, plus such stand-bys as playground sports, arts and crafts, tennis instruction, adult folk and square dance classes, high and junior teen programs. Senior Citizens and adult softball are still available.

Opening of the program was preceeded by a two-day workshop for 45 recreation leaders.

The workshop featured a talk by Ken Kim, San Jose State College professor, along with other sessions on duties and responsibilities, as well as practical work in arts and crafts, sports, and playground games.

Hasslegren Wins Award

Rung Hasslegren of the Pacifica AM Toastmasters Club received a third place in the Regional Finals of the organization's Serious Speech Contest at the Press Club in San Francisco.

Hasslegren competed against 12 other speakers in the region from California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii. He previously won at the club, area and district levels.

The title of his speech was "Lost." In it, he questioned man's direction in life.

Hasslegren is an employee of the Laguna Salada School District.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Vandals broke two windows in Woodrow Wilson School at 43 Miriam Street, school officials reported to Daly City police over the weekend.

Cancer Drive Nears Goal

San Mateo County's 1964 Cancer Crusade was within $5,000 of its $109,000 goal last week, according to County Chairman Robert F. DeWeese. The drive, he added, is ahead of last year's pace.

Pacifica was one of six areas that had reported contributions exceeding their goals.

Foils Suicide Of Pacifican

The life of Joseph Burnett Rigoni, 43, 1612 Linda Mar Boulevard, was saved last week by an unidentified neighbor who cut him down from a garage after Rigoni had attempted to hang himself, Pacifica police reported.

Office Melvin Nelson reported that Rigoni had strung a rope over a garage rafter and then had kicked a stool out from under his feet.

Rigoni's wife, Mary, told Nelson, who reported Rigoni had been drinking, said she and her husband has been having an argument. Rigoni was placed in County General Hospital on a 72-hour hold order.

New Park Sites Set for County

The state's program to acquire more county beach front parks received a financial shot in the arm last week.

Congressman J. Arthur Younger announced that the federal government has approved a grant of $2,340,000 to the state for the purchase of park land. New park sites planned include 463 acres along the county's Pacific shoreline from Half Moon Bay Beach to Bean Hollow Beach.

JULIUS CASTALAN, former president of the Mexican-American Political Association, looks over plaque he received from MAPA for "outstanding service." (Post-Times photo)

Service Award Given Castalan

Former Daly City Engineer Julius Castalan was awarded a plaque recently for "outstanding service" as president of the Mexican-American Political Association for the past two years.

Castalan was given the award at the state-wide organization's convention recently in Fresno. At the convention he was also elected state treasurer for a three-year term.

It was the third office Castalan has been elected to in organizations he belongs to in the past two months.

He was named to head the Daly City-Colma Democratic Club last month when Rubin Tepper resigned to move to Palo Alto. Castalan has been a charter member of the club since 1940 when it was chartered.

He was also elected treasurer of the Daly City-Colma Lion's Club.

When Castalan took over as president of MAPA, the state organization had a paid membership of about 400. Under his leadership, the membership increased to 3,700.

PACIFICA PLANNERS

Hillside Study Asked on Coast

A proposal that a study be made of undeveloped hillside areas to regulate future apartment construction and to assure that needed down drain improvements such as enlarged sewer mains will be installed was presented to Pacifica planning commissioners by James Supinger, planning administrator, last week.

At Suppinger's request, an outline of what a complete hillside study should include was prepared by Planning Consultant Ed Robinson.

Commissioners indicated that the study should include only the Brighton Canyon area instead of all hillside areas in the city.

Two proposals for major apartment improvements at the eastern end of Brighton Canyon have recently been submitted to the city.

One, for a project of 160 units on seven acres on the south side of Brighton Road submitted by Universal Hotels, was given conditonal approval last week.

The company plans a series of condominium homes of up to three stories.

Another applicaton from the same company for a 14-unit apartment on the east side of Monterey Road in the Pacifica Palisades area also was approved.

In other actions, commissioners:

Rejected an application from Oddstad Homes for a setback varance for a home on Mason Drive on the grounds the home could be redesigned to fit the lot, but approved an application for setback variances for four homes at the end of Vega Drive provided 20-foot driveways are provided.

Both applicatons were for the new Linda Mar No. 33 tract.

Granted Morris Katz, owner of Chubby's Drive-In, permission to construct a directional sgn leading to his business until a new overpass at Paloma Avenue is completed.

Approved an application to rezone property at the rear of 155 Milagra Drive to permit construction of an addition to the Cuyler Chevrolet agency.

Rejected a variance application for an already constructed non-conforming sign at the Pacifca U-Save Bottle shop.

Dropped an application for architectural approval of a proposed three-story apartment on Palmetto Avenue when the applicant failed to appear.

Heard a city attorney's ruling that new planned community districts can be formed even after adoption of a land use plan.

Heard a report that a new section to an apartment house zoning ordinance has been prepared to give greater control over multiple dwellings constructed on one site.

County Tax Rate Won't Be Boosted

Despite an unexpected increase of more than $1 million in the county budget for 1964-65, County Manager E. R. Stallings held out hope last week that the basic county tax rate will not have to be increased.

A final budget of $49,725,048 was approved by the County Board of Supervisors, compared with a preliminary figure of $48,690,765.

At the time the preliminary budget was adopted, Stallings predicted that there would be a tax cut of 1.65 cents.

The increase was necessary, however, because of new state requirements on welfare expenditures. The county's share of the additional amount represent about three cents on the county tax rate and would appear to more than wipe out the chances for a tax cut.

"It is still possible we can keep the tax rate in line with last year," Stallings said.

The 1963-64 rate was $1.57.

"We are still hopeful for a reduction, but it will take some mighty sharp figuring."

The manager said that, not only are the new welfare requirements affecting the spending program for the coming fiscal year, but are "bleeding" fund balances in the current year.

Whether the tax rate will go up or down or stay the same will not be known until August, by which time the updated assessment roll will be in, fund balances will have been computed and sources of revenue determined.

The tax rate has been lowered in each of the past five years.

Stallings' office said that statistics released this week by the California Taxpayers' Association show that San Mateo County is the lowest in the state in the percentage of the property tax dollar used for county government.
